Witnesses Trace Pope's Movements

By BOB SCHREFF
Star Staff Writer

The murder trial of Duane Earl Pope entered its fourth day Thursday as U.S. Attorney Theodore Richling called more witnesses to the stand in an attempt to prove that the Big Springs bank robbery and slayings were "cold, deliberate and premeditated" acts on the part of the young Kansan.

Under thorough questioning by Richling and Assistant U.S. Attorney Frederic Coufal, 16 new witnesses made positive identifications of Pope in connection with events leading up to and following the Farmers State Bank holdup.

Witnesses called by the government during the morning included persons living in or around Big Springs who were among the first on the bank robbery scene or those who saw Pope or his rented 1965 green Chevrolet during his speedy escape from southwestern Nebraska.

Methodically

Witnesses from Kansas testified during the afternoon as to preparations which prosecutors contend were made methodically by Pope for the Big Springs robbery.

Two other witnesses told jurors of dealings they had with a man they identified as Pope during his flight through western California while traveling under assumed names.

Defense attorney Robert Crosby objected several times to the government's line of testimony, contending that a judicial admission by Pope of the events of the crime made further questioning of certain witnesses "redundant, excessive and unnecessarily prejudicial to the defendant."

Overruled

He was overruled by Federal District Judge Robert Van Pelt on all occasions.

Although Crosby cross-examined several of the witnesses, he did not contest their testimony but instead questioned them as to whether Pope was "polite or nice," or "disturbed or unpleasant" during the period of time they saw him.

Dr. John Hartsaw, acting as coroner's physician, told the jury he entered the bank about 40 minutes after the holdup and found the three bodies on the floor with "blood in varying amounts in pools all around the heads of these people."

Powder Marks

Dr. Hartsaw said he checked for signs of life and finding none, examined the bodies more closely and found powder marks on the clothing and on the backs of their necks.

"They were shot at fairly close range," he said.

Many of the witnesses were called to trace the route of the getaway car.

Down Trails

Ranch wives Mrs. Barbara Ruser and Mrs. Esther Kirkpatrick told of seeing a car described as Pope's traveling down "sandhill trails" which connect gravel county roads in the Grant and Brandon area.

Eugene Justice, who operates a service station in Wauweta, said a man he identified as Pope drove into the station early in the afternoon of June 4.

Justice said the gas tank on the man's car was leaking badly and the windshield and sides were splattered with mud. It had not rained in Wauweta that day, but had in the Big Springs area, he said.

'Was Nervous'

Under cross-examination he described Pope as a "very polite, very kind young man, but when we settled up he was nervous and wanted to get out of there."

He said he heard of the robbery on the radio but discounted the customer as a suspect "because he didn't look like that kind of a man to me."

Other testimony showed that Pope purchased pieces of pipe, which he fashioned into a silencer, from a McPherson, Kan., firm May 15, and that he bought the .22-caliber Ruger automatic used in the holdup from another McPherson store on May 27.

Bought Car

A San Diego, Calif., car salesman, William Watson, testified that a man he identified as Pope paid $418 in cash for a 1958 model Ford on the morning of June 7, three days after the robbery.

Tony Diaz of Indio, Calif., told the jury that on the afternoon of June 7 a 1958 Ford was towed into his garage, accompanied by a man he identified as Pope.

It was revealed that Pope used the names "Douglas Peters" and "Phil Hill" in dealing with both men.

U.S. OKs Wheat Shipment To East Germany

Washington (AP) — The Commerce Department announced Thursday it had granted a license for the shipment of $3,470,148 worth of wheat to East Germany. It will be the first U.S. grain shipment to a communist bloc country since last year.

The department said the sales agreement provided for cash payment at prevailing world prices and met the U.S. government's requirement that 50% of the wheat would be shipped in American ships.

Power Urges U.S. Junk Disarmament

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

General Thomas Power Thursday urged the U.S. to reject disarmament proposals, and suggested that it "should go all out to exploit space for military purposes."

A United Nations agreement to prevent military exploitation of space is "wrong," the former commander of the Strategic Air Command told a news conference in Lincoln.

Power avoided a direct answer to a query as to whether he believes the U.S. should resume nuclear testing to develop more sophisticated weaponry.

Opposed Treaty

Power testified against the test ban treaty when it was subject to Senate debate during the Kennedy administration.

The U.S., he said, is in an arms race with its enemies, "and, within your economy, you should go as fast as you can."

America is "not doing it today in the strategic field," he declared.

U.S. Not Overextended In Social Security Field

The U.S. has not, as yet, undertaken more than it can afford in terms of social security programs, a leading educator told a symposium on "Man's Quest for Security" Thursday.

However, Dr. Harold W. Stoke warned, "in our eagerness to abolish poverty, to lengthen life and increase comfort, it is altogether possible to undertake too much too soon."

Stoke is former president of Queens College.

Aware of Views

"I am aware of the views, convincingly presented, that the true costs of social security are deferred costs and that the bill will be presented to our grandchildren later, that the plan is not an insurance plan at all but only a disguised method for the redistribution of wealth," Stoke said.

"On the other hand, these views are countered by opposing arguments equally persuasive. It is true security costs have risen rapidly, but so has the national income."

"To the view that the programs have been a depressant, there is counter-argument that social security has actually proved a stimulant to the free enterprise system."

'Caution'

New medicare legislation shows "evidence of caution," Stoke said, in its limited application and care not to undertake more than we can afford.

"It is quite possible that it will stimulate the free enterprise system itself as younger people, relieved of part of the medical expense of an older generation, may spend more on their own and their children's health," he declared.

America's social security legislation, Stoke said, has been characterized more by the quality of calculated economics than doctrinaire philosophy.

None Can Profit

But, the U.S. must not fail to understand that "a society cannot distribute as welfare what it does not produce as wealth," Stoke said, and "no group can ultimately profit by pursuing its own interest to the exclusion of others."

Henry S. Beers, chairman of the board of North American Reinsurance Companies, also touched briefly on the medicare program, urging insurance men to adjust themselves to this "new situation in an ever-changing world."

French Chief Says It's Either Him Or Chaos

. . . RE-ELECTION SEEMS ALL BUT FORMALITY

Paris (AP)—Eighteen days before his 75th birthday, Charles de Gaulle announced Thursday he is convinced he must continue to serve France and therefore will run for a new seven-year term as president Dec. 5. Few doubt the people of France will give him a vote of confidence.

The United States thus faces the prospect of a long period during which France will continue as its most exacting ally.

The president said his re-election would assure the future of the French republic. He warned that if he were defeated the nation could "fall into a confusion even more disastrous than she has known before."

Lots To Do Yet

De Gaulle declared that much progress has been made during the past seven years while he has been president, but much remains to be done. Among the unfinished business he listed "recovery of our independence without renouncing our alliances." This was an obvious reference to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He wants to see NATO reshaped to his own ideas.

Ending months of suspense as to his political intentions, De Gaulle made an eight-minute speech carried throughout the nation by radio and television. He appealed for a massive endorsement.

He recalled briefly his wartime services as chief of the Free French movement, and his role in preventing civil conflict in 1958.

De Gaulle's rivals for the presidency all asserted their determination to carry on their campaigns to unseat him.

Rivals Unsurprised

In separate statements, leftist Francois Mitterrand, rightist Jean-Louis Texier-Vignancour, centrist Jean Lecanuet, Pierre Marclhacy and Paul Antier all declared themselves unsurprised by De Gaulle's decision. They took the occasion to fire off some blasts at De Gaulle's "personal power."

"De Gaulle has picked the best Gaullist candidate," remarked Mitterrand to a crowded political rally in Lyon. "Since he personifies personal power, I am fighting De Gaulle." Mitterrand described De Gaulle as the candidate of the century of his birth—the 19th.

"What did you expect?" observed a stroller along the Champs Elysees. "He has not been a bad thing for France."

Power

"Too much power concentrated in one man," said a cafe customer, "but maybe it is necessary."

"Necessary. It's not necessary. The next thing you know he'll want a coronation," countered his companion.

De Gaulle asserted that the issue in the Dec. 5 election was the success or the renunciation of France toward herself. He more than implied that his own candidacy and France's success are synonymous. He concluded: "I hope, I believe, I know, that France will triumph, thanks to you."

U.S. Sees Early Fight On NATO

Washington (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's decision to seek re-election is taken here to mean an early clash between France and the United States and other allies over the organization of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The announcement in Paris came as no surprise to official Washington. De Gaulle had been expected to run again and his victory at the polls next month is considered to be beyond question.

Assuming his re-election, U.S. authorities expect that he will make initial proposals next year for reorganization of NATO military forces.

He has already served public notice that he wants an end to the system, which he considers adverse to French national interests.

Washington officials believe he may insist on conditions which could cause the withdrawal of NATO establishments and headquarters from France.

Earlier this week U.S. officials told newsmen in the course of a briefing conference here on foreign policy that France is likely to try to dismantle much of the NATO organization.

Whites Hand Ultimatum To Natchez Negroes

Natchez, Miss. (AP) — A group of white businessmen said Thursday that if Negro leaders don't call off an economic boycott here by Wednesday, Negro employees will be fired and housewives will be asked to lay off their domestic help.

The warning came in a statement to newsmen by businessmen who said they represented a wide segment of the Natchez economy.

The statement called on Negro leaders to back off from their demands and end the economic stranglehold that "amounts to possible stagnation in the community."

Planners OK Proposal Outline For Year-Round Head Start Program

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Project Head Start is being written as a year-round program by the Lincoln Public Schools to provide enrichment experiences for culturally deprived youngsters eligible to enter kindergarten the next fall, according to an outline presented by Lincoln schools Vice Supt. Arzell Ball.

Members of the advisory committee to last summer's Head Start unanimously approved the proposal outline Thursday but asked that the schools look for opportunities to work with families and homes and consider other ways for volunteer help to be used.

Advisory committee members told school representatives at the meeting, Ball, Dr. Julius Humann, Dr. Rudy Fredstrom and Robert Buckner, that volunteers in the city were anxious to continue working with Head Start and they felt that it was an important part of the program.

Volunteer Labor

Ball assured the committee that the schools "are not opposed to volunteer labor" and added that volunteers could be useful. He emphasized that the program would be set up so that it could "operate with or without it."

The $88,199.75 proposal for 150 children from families of less than $3,200 income per year will spend about $600 per child for the 18 weeks of second semester and eight weeks of summer sessions, Ball reported.

The schools hope to start Head Start in Lincoln Jan. 31 when second semester opens, but it first must gain approval of the Board of Education, the Lincoln Action Program and the Office Of Economic Opportunity. The governor also has the power to veto the proposal.

Consultant

A full-time Head Start consultant is anticipated, Dr. Ball told the committee, but if the person is found not to be needed full time, he could be used also as a general elementary consultant.

"The consultant will structure Head Start's program to include listening, speaking, readiness for reading, rhythmic, physical and handicraft activities."

It will also be the supervisor's decision when time is to be given for teachers to make home contacts, the vice superintendent reported. Several school officials favor a four-day session for the preschoolers, giving the teacher the fifth day to visit parents.

8-Nation N-Spread Pact Appeal Is OK'd

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Eight nations Thursday called for speedy adoption of a treaty to prevent spreading of nuclear weapons. Diplomatic sources said the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain had agreed to the text of their appeal, but that France turned it down.

Communist China, not a U.N. member, was not asked for its opinion.

Acceptance of the resolution by the major nuclear powers marked a giant step forward in the search for ways to control what is called proliferation of nuclear weapons, but it by no means meant that a binding treaty to stop it was at hand.

Employment 1,000 Above One Year Ago

One thousand more persons were employed in the Lincoln area in September than for the same month a year ago, according to the Nebraska Department of Labor.

The Lincoln area, as described in the monthly report, includes Fillmore, Lancaster, Saline, Seward and York Counties.

The department noted a drop of 450 employed from August to September. A decline of 500 on agricultural employment was responsible for this loss, the department added.

On the 12-month comparison, agricultural employment lags by 150.

Unemployment was estimated at 1,350 which represented a decline of 350 since one month ago, the September report said.

By occupations, job-seekers during September were: professional and managerial, 6%; clerical and sales, 22%; service, 9%; skilled, 4%; semiskilled, 7%; unskilled, 52%.

About 44% of claimants during September were previously employed by trade industries.

Changes in the Lincoln labor force during the next 30 days are expected to be minor. If fair weather prevails, unemployment and construction employment should remain relatively close to present levels. Food products, retail trade and government employment may host minor gains during the coming 30 days, the report noted.

UNEMPLOYMENT AT 8-YEAR LOW

Washington (AP)—Unemployment dropped in October to 4.8 million persons, or 4.3% of the civilian labor force, the lowest level in eight years, the Labor Department said Thursday.

At the same time, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said, civilian employment was 73,196,000 for the highest October level on record, up about 50,000 from September.

Arthur M. Ross, newly appointed labor statistics commissioner, said the drop in the unemployment rate from September's 4.4% was barely significant statistically, but represented a continued strong improvement since June when the jobless rate was 4.7%.

Broken Down
The roster of unemployed included 1 million adult men, 1 million adult women and 100,000 teen-agers.

October is normally the lowest month for unemployment. The bureau adjusts the unemployment rate in line with normal seasonal fluctuations in employment. Without this seasonal adjustment, the pure unemployment rate in October was 3.6% of the civilian labor force totaling 75,953,000 persons.

Ross, in his first news conference as commissioner, said it is important that the people of the nation understand what the government's jobless statistics are intended to show.

He said the unemployment figures reflect not only those suffering acute economic dis-

DA Proposes Cutting Ruby Death Verdict

Dallas, Tex. (AP)—The district attorney proposed Thursday that Jack Ruby's death sentence for killing President Kennedy's assassin be reduced to a prison term. This could mean freedom in seven years.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who prosecuted the one-time night club operator, said he has twice offered to recommend a sentence of life in prison.

Wade said the defense insists instead on a five-year sentence.

ness, but those not participating as fully as they wish in the nation's economic life.

He said he believes it important to think of the jobless problem in terms of people, rather than the unemployment rate.

Appearances
Noting that the 2.6% unemployment rate for adult men appeared to be a low figure, Ross added: "But it is a million people."

In reverse, he said the figures showed 25% unemployment among Negro girls, indicating a nearly hopeless situation. But this figure only involves 74,000 persons, he said.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner, noted that unemployment has dropped 500,000 from a year ago, three-fourths of it among adult men and one-fourth among adult women but virtually none among teen-agers.

But, he pointed out, the nation had absorbed 900,000 teen-agers into jobs in the past year. The rise in the number of teen-agers, stemming from the post-World War II baby boom, was the biggest in the nation's history, he said.

Ross noted that unemployment among nonwhites—mostly Negroes—was still nearly double the white rates at 7.9%.

OLD WORM TRACK FOUND

Dartmouth geologist Andrew H. McNair shows the fossil track of a worm at least 720 million years old. He found it on Canada's desolate Victoria Island 200 miles above the Arctic Circle. This and other fossils he and three students found may push back known history of life on earth by 120 million years.

3-Billion-Year-Old Fossils May Upend World Theories

Kansas City (AP)—Three billion years ago—when this planet was about one-fourth as old as now—there lived organisms so small that 50,000 laid end-to-end would be one inch long. Their discovery this year may upset some theories of how the world began.

"It proves that life must have existed much further back than any previous evidence has shown," said Dr. Elso S. Barghoorn, a Harvard biologist who made the discovery. His findings were presented Thursday at the annual convention of the Geological Society of America.

The findings "indicate that there was water and erosion then, even though we don't know what the atmosphere was like," Dr. Barghoorn said. "All we know is that the biological processes then were comparable to today."

Azoic Era
Little has been known about conditions more than 2.1 billion years ago in a time called the Azoic Era. Scientists previously had proven that bacteria-like organisms existed two billion years ago.

The world is presumed to be 4.5 billion years old. Dr. Barghoorn, 50, said he made the find in dense black rock while on an expedition with South African scientists last February. The rock is about 20 miles southeast of Barberton, South Africa, in an area that geologists designate the fig tree series of the Swaziland system of rocks.

"We brought the rock back to Harvard," Dr. Barghoorn said, "and we began work on it with an electronic microscope. About a month ago we found the residues of bacteria-like rod-shaped organisms. "The dating (of the rock) was done by South Africans and tests consistently placed the date from 2,950 to 3,200 million years ago." Because the organisms—encased in the rock—date back to when the earth was relatively young, "it shows that the physical environment was favorable to protoplasmic activity and supports the idea that the earth was not molten at formation," Dr. Barghoorn said.

Farm Effect On Policy, City To Be Scrutinized

Washington (AP)—President Johnson called Thursday for a "penetrating and long-range appraisal" of the role of the farmer in the urban society and the effect of farm programs on foreign policy.

The new study was announced after Johnson signed a four-year omnibus farm bill in Johnson City, Tex. It comes at a time when there are indications that the Agriculture Department is whittling away at farm surpluses held by the government—thanks to substantial help from the Food-for-Peace and other foreign aid programs.

Last June 30 the government held agricultural products valued at $6.4 billion. This compares with $7.1 billion on the same date in 1964 and a high of $8.3 billion June 30, 1961.

The new farm bill, signed Wednesday night only a few minutes before midnight when it would have died by pocket veto, includes major innovations affecting wheat, cotton and dairy products.

It carries an estimated $4-billion price tag for the 1966 high as $20 billion for the four-year period.

In a 1,500-word statement, Johnson hailed the new farm bill as a milestone establishing "a farm policy geared to growth" which he said would open a new chapter "in the miraculous story of American farming."

Then the President announced creation of the National Advisory Commission on Food and Fiber headed by Dean Sherwood Berg of the University of Minnesota School of Agriculture.

The new commission, Johnson said, will carry out "the most thorough study ever conducted of the effects of our agricultural policies on the performance of our economy and on our foreign relations."

Desecration Of Nature Called Immoral

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
Is it a sin to pollute a river... to denude a forest... to litter... to beach with beer cans... to turn a green meadow into an auto junkyard?
Dr. Truman B. Douglass says it is. And he's not using the word sin in the loose popular sense of "a sin and a shame." He means precisely that desecration of nature is an immoral act, an offense against God the Creator.

Dr. Douglass is a thoughtful and widely respected Protestant minister who serves as executive secretary of the Board for Homeland Ministries of the United Church of Christ. His concern about what man is doing to nature was voiced in his annual report to his board, and in an interview with UPI.

Man's Dominion
The Bible teaches that man was appointed to exercise "dominion" over the earth," he said. "But this does not mean that we are free to exploit nature ruthlessly for the satisfaction of our own immediate desires. We are supposed to be responsible custodians and stewards of the precious gifts of nature, using them for the good of the whole—which includes posterity. We do not have a right to hand on to our successors a riddled, raped and ravished planet."

Dr. Douglass said that man's failure to live up to his trust as God's appointed steward over nature is grimly attested by the current water shortage afflicting his home city, New York.

Although one of the world's great rivers, the Hudson, flows past New York, it has become "so polluted by the waste from factories and towns that it is little better than an open sewer," he said.

"All over America this has happened"

Man has a moral obligation to conserve not only the natural resources but also the beauty of the world which God entrusted to his dominion, Dr. Douglass said.

"Admittedly, esthetic values are difficult to define," he said. "Yet we know there are real differences."

"We know we would rather see a green meadow than a graveyard for junked automobiles."

"We know we would rather look at a forested mountain-side than one blackened and denuded by fire."

"We know that a clear waterfall has an effect upon the human spirit that is different from the effect of a stagnant backwater with raw sewage floating in it."

"We know that the sight of surf breaking on rocks and against clean sand dunes is somehow better than the sight and smell of a noisome mud flat covered with empty beer cans."

"One of the truly urgent questions facing our generation is whether our children and their children will have a chance to know these distinctions. If man continues his predatory way for another decade or two, the areas of natural beauty left in this once-fair land will be few, remote and inaccessible."

So what can be done about it?

Dr. Douglass thinks that churches should become "politically active in this area," waging a crusade for conservation just as they have waged a crusade for civil rights.

"Man's greed is so limitless and destructive that no agency but the government can hold it in check," he said. He agreed that "it may be startling to some church members to say that the church has a responsibility in the realm of conservation of natural resources and preservation of natural beauty."

"But if we take seriously the call to the church to turn away from itself and toward the world, this is part of what it means," he said.

Reds Ambushed Near Cambodia

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. cavalrymen's ambush of a column of North Vietnamese soldiers added fresh material Thursday to Saigon's old charge that neutralist Cambodia is a haven for communist fighters.

The ambush was laid Wednesday night on the final three-mile stretch of a jungle trail running from South Viet Nam's central highlands into Cambodia.

American participants said their Claymore mines, grenades and automatic rifles killed at least 20 of the North Vietnamese as they hiked, laughing and talking in the moonlight, toward the frontier.

The trap was sprung by Bravo Company of the 1st

Squadron, 9th U.S. Cavalry—a regiment of the 1st Cavalry Division (Air Mobile)—about 200 miles north of Saigon.

The survivors fled without firing a shot, but regrouped and later staged four counterattacks. These the company beat off with the help of air-lifted reinforcements and the rocket fire of armed helicopters. A U.S. spokesman said American losses were light. One U.S. helicopter was shot down. Over-all casualties among the North Vietnamese were undetermined.

South Vietnamese authorities over the last four years repeatedly have declared the communists were using Cambodia for staging, supply and rest centers. Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, has vehemently denied it.

Lt. Col. John D. Stockton of Columbus, Ga., commander of the 1st Squadron, said the squadron had been instructed to "get on the Cambodian border, find them and fight them."

"We did," he said.

Double Flight Won't Feature Space Walk

Space Center, Houston, Tex. (AP)—The daring, double Gemini space flight proposed for December will not include a space walk, the Manned Spacecraft Center announced Thursday.

Consideration was given to allowing astronaut Thomas Stafford outside the Gemini 6 spacecraft while in orbit, but it was announced Thursday that "there would be no EVA (extravehicular activity)."

A center spokesman said at a news conference the proposed dual flight of Gemini 7 and Gemini 6 was on schedule. The target date for launching Gemini 7 on a 14-day endurance mission is Dec. 8.

Nebraskan On Duty In Viet Nam Area

S. Sgt. Donald R. Johnson (left), Central City, Neb., and S. Sgt. Ernest Stewart, Castonia, N. C., stand in the doorway of the metal cargo container that serves as their office at Tan Son Nhut Air Base in the central highlands of Viet Nam, checking a flight manifest. Two Air Force sergeants process some 200 passengers and 50 tons of cargo a day funneling support to military assistance groups and Vietnamese fighters. They handle 50 to 60 flights a day.

DOCTORS CUT GRENADE FROM VIETNAMESE FARMER'S BACK

Saigon (P)—A team of U.S. surgeons successfully removed a live Viet Cong hand grenade from a Vietnamese farmer's back Friday.

Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys Jr. of the U.S. Air Force, a chest surgeon, headed the group which performed the operation on 52-year-old Nguyen Van Chinh. The 40mm grenade — about two inches wide — has been lodged in his back since last Friday.

"Someone has to pull the thing out," said Humphreys. "We volunteered."

The patient was struck by the grenade fired from an M79 grenade launcher last Sunday by the Viet Cong in Long An province south of Saigon.

It was believed to have been fired at him from a distance of about eight yards, but no one was certain of the distance. This was important because after it has traveled 12 yards, this type of grenade is ready to explode.

The farmer has been confined to a shed at a Vietnamese hospital in Saigon since Sunday.

Humphreys, of Richmond, Va., who heads the U.S. aid mission's public health division, was called in on the case by Vietnamese health authorities.

They were at a loss to know what to do. The impact of the grenade on the patient's

Frontier Figure Hits Alltime High

Sidney (P)—Boardings on Frontier Airlines hit an alltime high at Sidney during October, with 190 passengers listed. A few times before the number of boardings has exceeded 180, but this is the first time for the 190 mark.

However, the deficit for the year is probably too great to be overcome. It would be necessary for 460 persons to board the airline here between now and the end of the year to achieve the five-day goal.

MUD Recommends Gas Rate Reduction

Omaha (P)—A reduction of 3.4% in residential gas rates was recommended by the Metropolitan Utilities District directors. The directors said the cut would save $4.16 a year for the average home owner using gas for heating.

South Pole Visitors

Buenos Aires, Nov. 4 (P)—Three Argentine air force planes have landed at the South Pole and unloaded supplies for an army patrol that is trying to reach the pole overland.

County Agents Hecht, Hattan Cited

Pittsburgh, Pa. — Two Nebraska county Extension agents received distinguished service awards from the National Association of County Agricultural Agents (NACAA) at the organization's 50th annual meeting in session here.

The two — Harry Hecht, York, and Gayle Hattan, Wahoo — were among a select group of county agents from the 50 states who received the award this year. Each was presented a certificate honoring him for past years of county Extension work.

On hand to see their co-workers receive national recognition were 24 county Extension agents from Nebraska. Both of the recipients are 1951 graduates of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics, and both have been agents for 14 years.

Clyde Noyes, assistant director of the agricultural Extension service at NU, said, "Both of these men are highly respected, successful county agents. It is a credit to the University and to Extension service for them to receive this award."

"Harry Hecht has developed a good rural-urban relationship in York County," he said. "He has worked closely with agri-business to advance the agricultural industry, and has guided the people of the county in pioneering in ground water conservancy.

"Gayle Hattan has been especially successful in the development of the livestock industry through 4-H," Noyes said. "He has promoted quality and has interested many 'town youngsters' in livestock projects. He has also done an excellent job of organizing leadership for the county Extension program."

Working For Master's
Both men are currently working for their master's degrees. Noyes added Hecht was cited for initiating Extension programs which have won the confidence of rural and urban people alike. He was recognized for promoting more efficient irrigation and developing successful beef and swine educational programs.

Hattan has worked closely with University of Nebraska agricultural engineers in staging of the annual Tractor Day, a large agricultural-related event sponsored annually by the institution. Held at the NU agricultural field laboratory near Mead in eastern Saunders County, the 1965 field day attracted 17,000 persons.

Attack Fatal For Dr. Hildreth, 59; Franklin Native

Los Angeles (P) — Dr. Harold M. Hildreth, 59, a consulting psychologist for the National Institute of Mental Health, died Tuesday of a heart attack.

Dr. Hildreth, of Falls Church, Va., was in Los Angeles for the fall training meeting of the Los Angeles suicide Prevention Center which he helped to set up several years ago. He was born in Franklin, Neb.

1st Kidney Transplant Attempted

... In Omaha Area

Omaha (P) — The first attempted kidney transplant in the Omaha area was performed at Clarkson Hospital Thursday on a patient who has been sustained with an artificial kidney for 18 months.

A surgical team of five completed the transplant in a 3½-hour operation and the surgery was described as "technically successful."

The donor of the kidney was a young woman suffering from an untreatable brain tumor. A spokesman for the surgical team said the young woman died about 4:17 a.m. and the transplant was completed about 8 a.m.

There is no way of knowing at this time whether the transplant will be successful," the spokesman said.

'66 Corvair Corsa Convertible—with outside rear-view mirror among the many safety assists that are now standard. Always check it before you pass.

Drive to work. Drive home. Drive to work. Drive home. Drive to the supermarket. Drive home. In most cars this routine can be more than monotonous. In a Corvair it becomes something else again. Corvair doesn't drive like most cars. The steering is easier—because there's less engine weight on the front wheels. The traction is surer, gutsier—because there's more engine weight on the rear wheels. Even the economy is something special. You never have to bother with antifreeze, for example, because Corvair's engine is air-cooled. No radiator repairs or leaky hose connections either. Getting a little bored with your daily driving routine? Drive down to your Chevrolet dealer's—and break the monotony.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplaine

"I intend to become just a plain housewife," said Elizabeth Taylor plainly.

That was some years ago. And shows the course of plain of mice and men, especially mice who don't know their own minds.

At the time of this plain statement, Miss Taylor was newly wedded to Eddie Fisher. And visions of sugar plums danced in her head.

That's all passed now. And I haven't heard much plain talk from her lately. But at the time, it was an inspiration to all plain housewives in our neighborhood.

It is not easy to be a plain housewife. I did a survey on this the other day — just to update the subject.

The plain housewife rises in the morning. She takes the curlers from her plain hair — 'The beauty parlor charged $7.80 and now look at it!'

She looks at her plain face in the mirror. The bathroom scales show plainly something has been added. And it isn't sand, Daddy.

At the breakfast table Plain Joe is deep in the sporting page and the morning comes. Plainly from the playroom comes the voice of the offspring.

Let me have the ax! It's my turn!"

The plain housewife bursts into plain tears.

Plain Joe is astounded. "What now?" he asks. "Didn't I bring you candy once a month or so ago?"

Well, Miss Taylor escaped this fate by a mere chance. She shed Ed. Married Richard Burton, fresh from his Roman armor.

Guard Strength Increase Plan OK'd By Governor

By JOHN ARMSTRONG Associated Press Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday announced he has approved the plan to increase the combat readiness of the 67th Nebraska National Guard Infantry Brigade to complete war-time strength.

State Adjutant General Lyle A. Welch reported that the National Guard Bureau has given verbal approval to the plan and his staff has launched implementation of it.

The governor and Gen. Welch, who earlier announced that the buildup of the brigade would affect 21 units and 3,764 Nebraskans, released details of the plan at a news conference.

"The plan consists of redesignations and beefing up," Gen. Welch said. "People will go to the same armories in the same towns for training. No towns will lose men, and some towns will gain men."

The acceleration of the 21 units to complete combat readiness will require an increase of 1,099 men in the brigade's present Nebraska force of 2,665 and increase the yearly number of drills from 48 to 72. In addition the brigade will attain the highest equipment level in peace time history.

Gen. Welch said the communities of Wahoo, Grand Island, Sidney, Hastings and Scottsbluff will be most affected by the unit redesignations.

In Wahoo the former 24th Medical Company will become the 167th Aviation Company. At Hastings, two platoons of a non-brigade engineer unit will be transformed into rifle platoons.

In Grand Island, two platoons of a non-brigade engineer force will be transferred to the 867th Engineer Company of the brigade. At Sidney, a battery of the first battalion of the 168th Artillery, a non-brigade unit will be reassigned to the Second Battalion of the Brigade's 168th Artillery at Scottsbluff.

The plain housewife life — the nose and the fresh frock hollyhocks and the breeze — went out the window blowing through the chintz curtains, the dab of flour on plain housewives who can't seem to get time to get out of the kitchen.

From the outside, the plain housewife role looks like a meaty part. But as plain housewives know, it is not that easy.

The hollyhock garden must be sprayed against thrips. Likewise cultivated — a job that's plain hell on the hands even with gardening gloves.

The cozy, four-room bungalow needs a lot of plain, hard cleaning.

No wonder her back hurts. Distributed By The Chronicle Features

Inspection Team To Tour Mead Nov. 17

The team inspecting the Mead site for the proposed multi-million dollar proton accelerator will be in Nebraska Nov. 17 and perhaps part of the 18th, according to announcements from the Chamber of Commerce and Congressman Clair Callan.

The team will be headed by John Erlewine, assistant general manager of operations for the Atomic Energy Commission. Accompanying him will be AEC physicist Paul Reardon, Lawrence Radiation Laboratory physicist Bruce Cork and AEC engineer Charles York.

Dr. Paul McDaniels, director of the AEC's division of research, said the team would be principally concerned with evaluation of site criteria previously submitted by the Lincoln and Omaha Chambers of Commerce. The investigation will stress water and power supply as well as availability and ownership of land, topography, and transportation, he said.

Gerdes Thinks School Land Opinion May Call For Special Unicam Session

An attorney general's opinion on school land improvements may bring about a special session of the Legislature, according to Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance.

The attorney general has ruled that all improvements placed on school lands without the approval of the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds belong to the state.

The last Legislature ordered that the lands be sold at auction and Gerdes said he doubted there would be any views if the attorney general's opinion stands.

Gerdes said he personally thought the opinion was in error and he predicted a large number of law suits would be filed if leases were not reimbursed when the lands are sold.

Dentists Elect 3 Sebergs

Three Nebraska dentists, all from the same family and graduates of the University of Nebraska College of Dentistry, have been elected fellows of the International College of Dentists.

They are: Dr. LaVerne Seberg of Fullerton, class of '36; Dr. J. Herbert Seberg of Hastings, class of '44; and Dr. John Raymond Seberg of Hastings, class of '44.

Dr. Ralph Ireland, dean of the College of Dentistry, said that election to the International College is a distinct honor. Selection is based on contributions to local and national dental organizations, and local community service activities.

They will be initiated in ceremonies Sunday at a meeting of the International College of Dentists at Las Vegas, Nev.

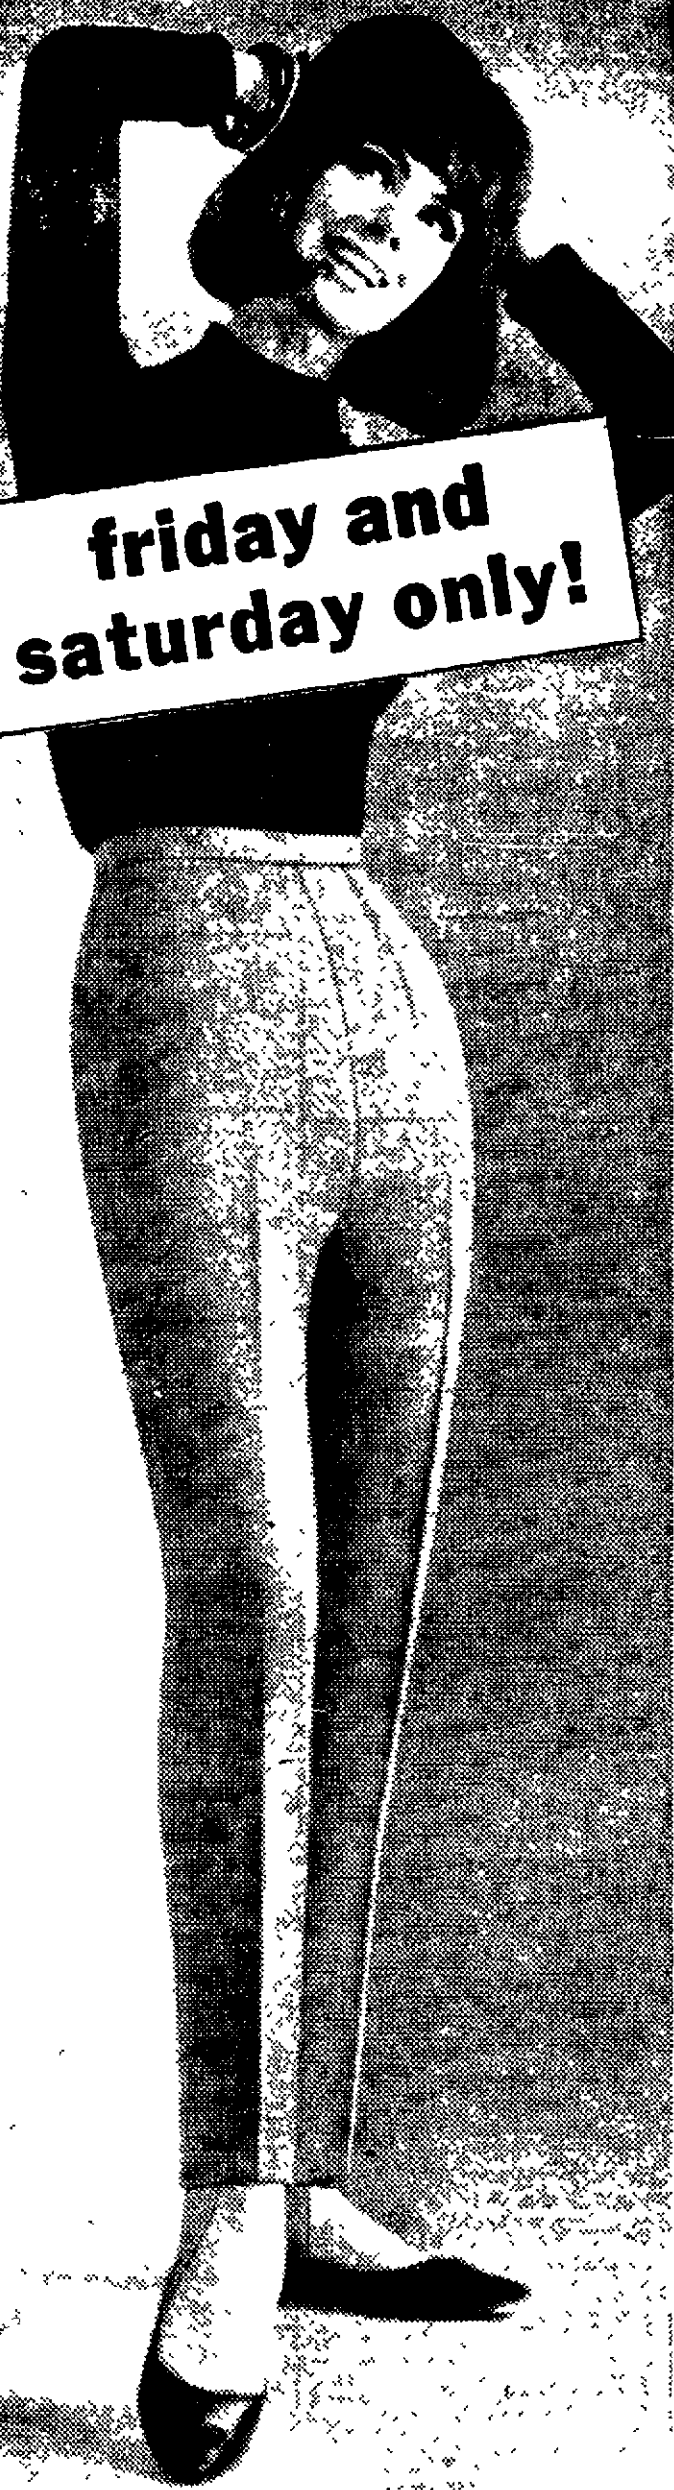

Dedication Set Dec. 2 For NU's Behlen Lab

The new Behlen Physics Laboratory Building at the University of Nebraska will be dedicated Dec. 2.

Dr. Theos J. Thompson, professor of nuclear engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will be the guest speaker.

Youth Politics Praised

... SORENSEN

"Politics needs the youth, the brains and the boldness that only young people have," Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen told Young Republicans at the University of Nebraska Thursday night.

He emphasized the opportunity for leadership in the Republican Party which, he said, has "a tremendous responsibility to become the true voice of the minority."

He also stressed the responsibility of American cities to provide equal opportunity in housing and jobs to all American citizens.

"Omaha is leading the way in human relations," he continued. He cited the city's plans for multiple dwellings financed by the FHA and the moving of 16 Negroes into previously all-white neighborhoods.

He credited Homer Floyd, Negro chairman of Omaha's human relations committee, with much of Omaha's progress. Floyd was also used as an example that "the leadership of Omaha, of Nebraska and of America depends on the development of young talent."

Sorensen called housing conditions of Omaha's poor "disgraceful beyond anything I have ever seen. . . . Omaha needs $25 million for street improvement and $30 million for sewer improvement."

In response to a question about financing programs for better housing and street and sewer improvement, Sorensen said that "the federal government has to rebate part of its taxes to the states, the states to the cities."

Another of his major comments was that he hoped to see "Lincoln and Omaha working together to make Nebraska the greatest state in the nation."

Siegel Directs Scottish Rite Degree Work

Morris D. Siegel, directed the degree work on the second day of the three day Scottish Rite Reunion.

The three day reunion will end with a banquet at 6:00 p.m. Friday honoring the new 32 degree Scottish Rite Masons. The banquet speaker will be Robert C. Sprague, 33 degree, Secretary-Recorder of the Army Consistory, Ft. Leavenworth, Kans.

The reunion is under the direction of Joseph W. Seacrest, 33 degree active. Sovereign Grand Inspector General of Scottish Rite in Nebraska and Grand Almoner of the Supreme Council.

Robert E. Marks, 32 degree commander of the Lincoln council announced the following Scottish Rite Masons have completed the philosophical and chivalric degrees.

The following were recognized as 30th degree Masons: Lincoln: Charles P. Arnold, Dorvin D. Barnes, Arnold O. Boettcher, Marshall E. Boudin, John D. Carter, Jr., Martin W. Challburg, Sidney A. Cornell, Joseph R. Dietrick, Douglas M. Dort, Dale R. Glick, Don R. Glick, Marvin L. Green, Henry S. Greenwald, Rex C. Hugley, Wallace R. Humphreys, James D. Huntsman, Calvin M. Jones, Edward C. Leyden, Irvine E. Mahoney, Thomas E. Phelan, Ronald R. Rice, Richard K. Roedel, Glen H. Strain, Moss S. West, Samuel M. Zolot.

Beatrice: Robert L. Johnson, Eugene M. Koloue, Robert J. Sargent, Sr. Friend: Homer T. Bender. Seward: William M. Christianson.

Holsinger Sees Merit In Mason's Suggestion

City Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger said Wednesday that Councilman John Mason's suggestion to make Q St. two-way when between 9th and 10th Sts., even if a full one-way system is approved, "on the surface has some merit."

The idea, Holsinger said, would be to give additional access to the University of Nebraska for vehicles coming from the north, which would otherwise have to go to P St. before being able to get into the University area, according to the one-way plan before the City Council.

NWU Homecoming Activities Underway

Floats highlighted Nebraska Wesleyan University's homecoming parade through downtown Lincoln Thursday evening. Earlier NWU faithful attended a torchlight parade and bonfire rally on the campus. The annual homecoming awards convocation will be held at 10:00 a.m. Friday. Climax of the festivities will be Wesleyan's football game with Hastings' College Broncos at 7:30 p.m. Friday followed by the homecoming dance at Ira J. Taylor gymnasium.

Galbraith Hits Planners' Stress On Growth Instead Of Cities' Survival

New York (AP)—An economic adviser to the late President John F. Kennedy Thursday criticized the nation's planners for sacrificing urban survival to growth of the gross national product.

Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard professor who also was ambassador to India in the Kennedy administration, said economists are 30 years behind the times in specifying "it is the growth that counts."

"That this growth gives the revenues to the federal government and the problems—from the traffic jams to air pollution, to provision of room—to localities is also a detail," said Galbraith.

In a lecture at New York University, Galbraith said that if inflation threatened the U.S. economy, taxes should be raised.

"The corporation tax would be the right tax to raise," he declared. He also proposed these anti-inflationary moves:

—A boost in stock market margin requirements to 100%, eliminating any credit in stock purchases. The present margin is 70%.

—A maintenance of interest rates at present levels.

"It is still considered sound policy to give up the taxes that might help the cities in order to stimulate the most rapid possible growth," Galbraith declared.

The economist did not refer specifically to President Johnson's administration. The administration is currently stimulating growth of the gross national product—the sum of the costs of goods and services.

The GNP hit an annual rate during the third quarter of this year of $876.9 billion. Growth of the GNP is now in its 56th month.

Galbraith pictured an imaginary future man dying in a massive traffic jam. He said he could not imagine such a person would "be especially enchanted to hear from the last survivor that in the preceding year gross national product went up by a record amount."

"Nor," Galbraith added, "is it, I venture, the most rewarding news for most urban dwellers today."

"The world is again out of step with authority," said Galbraith, "and authority is again insisting that the world conform."

LBJ Appoints Hughes To Post
Johnson City, Tex. (AP)—A Nebraskan, Herbert J. Hughes of Imperial, was named to President Johnson's commission on food and fiber. Hughes is a wheat and cattle farmer. Naming of commission members followed the signing by the President of the four-year omnibus farm bill.

City Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger said Wednesday that Councilman John Mason's suggestion to make Q St. two-way when between 9th and 10th Sts., even if a full one-way system is approved, "on the surface has some merit."

The idea, Holsinger said, would be to give additional access to the University of Nebraska for vehicles coming from the north, which would otherwise have to go to P St. before being able to get into the University area, according to the one-way plan before the City Council.

The proposal would take a great deal of study before any definite plans could be considered, the traffic engineer explained. Any action would be separate from the pending ordinance on one-ways, he said, since the addition could be made at any time.

Mason suggested that traffic be allowed to go east on the north side of Q St., which now is exclusively for five vehicles, between 9th and 10th Sts. This lane could be used when the fire station moves, Holsinger pointed out. West-bound traffic on Q would be moved on the south side.

However, several "serious problems" would have to be solved, according to Holsinger, including signalization, circulating, confusion of traffic on the wrong side of the street, widening dividers giving the effect of separate roadways, and Bureau of Roads approval.

3 Governors War On Depletion Of Resources

St. Louis, Mo. (AP)—Governors of Pennsylvania, Missouri and Kentucky declared war Thursday on the depletion of America's natural resources and vowed to coordinate state action to save them before the federal government steps in.

The governors and representatives of 22 other states met with the Council of State Governments in a conference on a proposed interstate mining compact.

The compact would help states control dissipation of resources by strip-mining, stream pollution, and other sources. But the aims of the group go beyond mining problems to preservation of all resources.

Time Upon Us
"The time has come for the states to meet their responsibilities to save natural resources," said Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

"And we're going to have to work together or the governors will wind up federal account clerks," added Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky, chairman of the National Governors' Conference.

Land use, Gov. Henry Bellmon, Oklahoma; forestry resources, Gov. Daniel J. Evans, Washington; water resource planning and development, Gov.-elect Mills E. Godwin, Virginia; and Breathitt; mineral resource development, Scranton; outdoor recreation, Gov. John A. Love, Colorado; air pollution control, Gov. Phillip H. Hoff, Vermont; fish and wildlife enhancement, Gov. Grant Sawyer, Nevada; natural disaster control, Govs. Frank B. Morrison, Nebraska, and Manuel F. L. Guerrero, Guam, and natural beauty and beautification, Gov. William L. Guy, North Dakota.

When Ellis Island finally came into the hands of the United States Government, it served as an artillery garrison and arsenal before becoming the chief immigration station in 1892.

Committee on Natural Resources.

The compact would assist states in passing laws requiring mining companies to restore land and other resources damaged by their operations.

Breathitt said the states could not handle this alone and Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri said the best way for the states to meet their responsibility is through compacts so research and experience can be shared.

Nine subcommittees were set up. The chairmen:

Land use, Gov. Henry Bellmon, Oklahoma; forestry resources, Gov. Daniel J. Evans, Washington; water resource planning and development, Gov.-elect Mills E. Godwin, Virginia; and Breathitt; mineral resource development, Scranton; outdoor recreation, Gov. John A. Love, Colorado; air pollution control, Gov. Phillip H. Hoff, Vermont; fish and wildlife enhancement, Gov. Grant Sawyer, Nevada; natural disaster control, Govs. Frank B. Morrison, Nebraska, and Manuel F. L. Guerrero, Guam, and natural beauty and beautification, Gov. William L. Guy, North Dakota.

THE TALK

around town is about fun

If anyone had the idea that this was to be a guest-less weekend—guess again. It seems proper and fitting that many of the guests are from Kansas and Kansas City, Mo., but we have a name or two to mention who have come from a greater distance.

Before we open the guest book, however, we have an introduction to make—We wish to present Tucker Bryan Magid who arrived on Friday, Oct. 29, and perhaps we don't need to tell you—but we will—that the baby is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Magid (Carolyn Schimmel) of Omaha. The grandparent foursome includes Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel of Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Magid of Omaha.

Right now we're thumbing through the guest book and discovered that eight Lincoln couples have big plans for a group of guests from Kansas City.

This, we hear, is a tradition—One year the group from Lincoln has a whingding with the Kansas City people—and the next year, the Kansas City group comes to Lincoln.

The hosts and hostesses for a weekend of fun include Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Andros, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Fullerton, Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Wendt, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Chan Tyrrell, Mr. and Mrs. Don Forke, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Forke, Mr. and Mrs. William Wiese, and Bud Packett.

Invitations have been received in Kansas City by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hensen who, incidentally, are former Lincoln residents; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kremer, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crockett, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Kokjer, Mr. and Mrs. James Steel, Mr. and Mrs. James Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wohlberg, and Mr. and Mrs. William Brown.

Also to be included in all of the festivities are Mr. and Mrs. William Ammon of Tucson, Ariz., formerly of Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Ammon, by the way, already are in town and are making Hotel Cornhusker their headquarters.

The festivities begin on Saturday when the Lincoln hosts and hostesses will entertain 125 guests at a pre-game 'victory' luncheon at the Gaslight Mellerdrammer theater in courtesy to the visitors. And following the game there will be a 6:30 o'clock to 9 o'clock canape party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Forke for the group from Lincoln and their guests from Kansas City—and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Ammon.

Arriving from Kansas City on Saturday morning to spend the weekend as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Woodruff will be Mr. and Mrs. Don Wheelock. We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock also will be visiting Dr. and Mrs. Robert Burton.

Then we heard that Mr. and Mrs. Eames Irvin also are having game weekend house guests—The visitors will be Mr. and Mrs. James Sunderman of Newton, Kan.

It would seem that the members of the Terpsichorean Dancing Club are looking ahead—to Thanksgiving. Anyway they will have a Thanksgiving motif for their dinner dance on Saturday evening at Hotel Lincoln.

The party plans have been made by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. James Bickle, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Harm, and Mr. and Mrs. James Clark of Dorchester.

IN suburban areas

EASTBOROUGH

There is a birthday celebration planned on Marcia Lane for Sunday. Partying it up on his fourth anniversary will be Larry Meng, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meng.

His guest list will include Kim Baldwin, Nanette Newcomb, Lynn and Chris Gillespie, Jody and Linda Meng, his cousins, and his brother Mark and sisters Lea and Linda. Also partying will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meng, Larry's grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoffman have as their house guests this week their daughter, Mrs. William Schwessinger and their granddaughter Cindy. The two guests are visiting from Brookfield, Wis. and will be in Lincoln until tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Stetson are putting on the traveling miles lately. Last weekend the Stetsons motored to Columbia, Mo. for the game and accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dedrick.

As for this weekend the Stetsons with their children, Patricia, Duane, Helen and Ron, already have left for some deer hunting in their hometown of Crawford. The travelers will be house guests of Mr. Stetson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stetson.

Mrs. Frank Fleagle hosted a desert bridge at her home last evening. Members were Mrs. David Carbaugh, Mrs. Warren Chappell, Mrs. Keith Erlewine and Mrs. Leslie Robinett. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Gerald Archer, Mrs. David Paulson and Mrs. Ruth Fifer.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Saturday travelers to Kenesaw were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hewitt who were overnight houseguests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shuriger and their five daughters Cindy, Janice, Barbara, Patti and Mollye. Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt returned to Lincoln later Sunday.

Friday was moving day for Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Blatchley. Mr. and Mrs. Blatchley and their family moved to their newly built home on Loveland Drive.

Lost one family but gained another—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen and their four children. The newcomers are former residents of Denton but now claim 2523 Kessler Drive as their address.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

Another birthday party in the making is on Wilshire Boulevard. Three of the Elwin L. Donahoo children will celebrate. All three birthdays are on Nov. 7. Sandy will be four and the twins, Pat and Ron, will become two.

Guests at the Sunday afternoon affair will be Scott Allen Donahoo, Steven Donahoo, Roxanne and Karen Felton, a whole family of Sharpnacks—Danny, Johnny, Susan, Steven and Bobby Lamb.

The older party-goers will be grandparents Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Donahoo and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sharpnack and uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lamb.

ART workshop for faculty

Approximately 25 faculty members of Lincoln elementary and secondary schools were the interested observers Thursday afternoon and evening, when Justin Brady of Indianapolis, Ind., opened a two-day, in-service art workshop at the Public School Administration Building. Mr. Brady, who formerly instructed ceramics at Indiana University and the New York State College of Ceramics, demonstrated forming clay by hand methods. The workshop on Friday, from 4 o'clock to 9 o'clock, will feature the decoration of ceramics.

not buddy's say-so

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I met Dolly, she was wearing Vic's engagement ring. I pleaded guilty to stealing another man's girl, but it was just one of those things. I'm glad we found out we were meant for each other before it was too late. Dolly just called me and told me that when she tried to give Vic back the diamond ring he acted like a real gentleman. He didn't fall apart or blame me or anything. But he said that since Dolly had picked the ring out herself, she should ask me to give him what he paid down on it, take over the rest of the payments, and Dolly could keep the ring. Dolly says she thinks it's a good idea. I can't see anything wrong with it, either. I told this to a buddy of mine and he said I must be nuts. Tell me, Abby, what's wrong with that deal?

I. M. SERIOUS

DEAR I. M.: Look, friend, if you're happy, Dolly's happy and Vic is happy, what your buddy says doesn't cut any ice with me.

DEAR ABBY: I lost my job. I was a checker in a chain grocery store. Once I was 46 cents short and the other time I was $1.16 short.

The public seems to think if a checker makes a mistake and gives them too much change, so what? The store loses money, but they can afford it.

Abby, that's not true. The store loses, sure, but the checker has to make it up out of his pay. And in some stores, like the one I worked for, if the checker is short twice, he gets fired.

I am sure if the public knew this they would count their change before leaving the store, and correct any errors that might have been made. I have had as many people tell me I gave them too much as too little. I think most people are basically honest.

Lemons For Beauty

To keep your skin clear and fair you need the natural cleansing and bleaching properties of lemon. Ask your druggist for a bottle of lemon jelly, the latest type skin freshener that beautiful women throughout the world are now using. Lemon jelly braces and conditions the skin to a beautiful new clarity and fine grained texture; its excellent toning properties help stimulate the surface cells, clear out stubborn blemishes, induce and pore-clogging particles and smooth the skin to beautiful clarity. Lemon jelly is ideal for quick complexion cleansing and two capfuls in your final shampoo rinse will give a sparkling shine to your hair. Lemon jelly is a must for complexion beauty.

BRIDES BOOK

Sharing honors on Saturday evening will be Miss Barbara Johnson and her fiancé, Ernest L. Waldron of Chicago, whose wedding will be an event of Sunday, Nov. 5.

Honoring the couple will be Mr. Waldron's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Waldron of Freeman, Mo., who will be host and hostess to members of the family and bridal party at a dinner to be held at the Colonial Inn.

The bride-elect, who is a graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Nursing, will return home Friday from Evanston, Ill., where she is associated with the medical staff of Weiss Memorial Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis G. Johnson.

Miss Patricia O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

William T. O'Brien of Omaha, has announced the members of her bridal party for her marriage to Larry L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayfield E. Johnson, which will take place Saturday, Nov. 6.

For the high noon ceremony, which will be solemnized at Holy Angels Church in Omaha, the bride-elect has named her sister, Miss Maureen O'Brien, as her maid of honor. Her bridesmaids will be Mrs. Richard H. O'Brien of Millard, Mrs. Daniel J. Hedrick and Mrs. Orin J. Godsey, both of Omaha.

Miss Kelly Michele O'Brien will attend her aunt as flower girl, and the ringbearer will be Terry Feldman, cousin of the bridegroom-elect.

Serving his brother as best man will be Michael J. Johnson, and the corps of ushers will include the bride-elect's brother, Richard H. O'Brien of Millard; Robert R. Johnson, also a brother of Mr. Johnson, and Donald G. Svoboda, both of Lincoln; Ben H. Gittings, Omaha; and Bruce G. Jones, Bellevue.

Naming the members of her bridal party for her early November wedding is Miss Dianna Ritchey, whose marriage to Robert Swenson will be solemnized Saturday evening, Nov. 6, at St. Mark's Methodist Church.

Miss Darlene Takahashi will attend the bride-elect as the maid of honor, and the bridesmatron will be Mrs. Eugene Portis. Miss Sharon Bevans will be the flower girl, and lighting the candles for the 7:30 o'clock service will be Miss Diane Bevans and the bride-elect's sister, Miss Della Ritchey.

Bill Plock will serve as best man, and Miss Ritchey's brother, John Ritchey, will be groomsmen. Seating the guests will be Eugene Portis and Ron Carroll.

The soon-to-be bride was the honored guest on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 24, when Mrs. Eugene Portis entertained 18 guests at a miscellaneous shower held at her home.

BIDDING QUIZ

You are the dealer, neither side vulnerable, and have opened One Diamond. Partner responds One Heart. What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠AK4 ♥— ♦KQ8753 ♣AJ62
2. ♠A ♥Q862 ♦AK76 ♣AQ53
3. ♠K93 ♥AJ4 ♦KJ8652 ♣8
4. ♠8 ♥QJ88 ♦AKJ94 ♣AK7
5. ♠85 ♥AK9 ♦KQJ73 ♣AJ4

1. Two clubs. The value of a hand rises or falls depending upon the bids made by your partner or the opponents. Thus, in this case, when partner responds a heart, the value of your hand immediately drops about 3 or 4 points. It is not good to learn that partner has length in a suit of which you are void.

The first reaction to the heart response should be that there is danger of a misfit and that care should consequently be exercised until this fear has been allayed.

In line with this, you respond two clubs. One advantage of this call is that it is ambiguous, since the opener's change-of-suit rebid may be based on absolutely minimum values or on values much better than that. What happens next depends on partner's reaction to the two club bid. It is possible that the original promise of the hand will be restored if partner, for example, jumps to three diamonds.

2. Three hearts. There is a good chance of making four hearts, but we cannot bid game ourselves because the heart response may have been made on minimum values. The theory is that if partner passes three hearts, which he is allowed to do, he will probably have his hands full making even nine tricks. We are obviously too good for just two hearts, which would show a hand of the minimum class.

3. Two hearts. It is better to show the heart support at once than to rebid the diamonds for the purpose of showing their length. Either bid would show a minimum opening, but the heart raise gives a better picture of the hand.

4. Three clubs. We have the values for a raise directly to four hearts, but it is better to jump-shift in clubs (forcing) before bidding four hearts. In this way partner will learn of both the singleton spade and the strong possibility of making a slam. The jump-shift shows at least 20 points, counting high cards and distribution.

5. Three hearts. It is customary to have four trumps for a jump raise, but with 18 highcard points we can be forgiven for having only three. There is no better bid available, so, while it is true that three hearts is not a perfect bid, it still comes closer than anything else to identifying the true value of the hand.

New Way to be Suddenly Slim, Comfortable, Too

Los Angeles: — Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

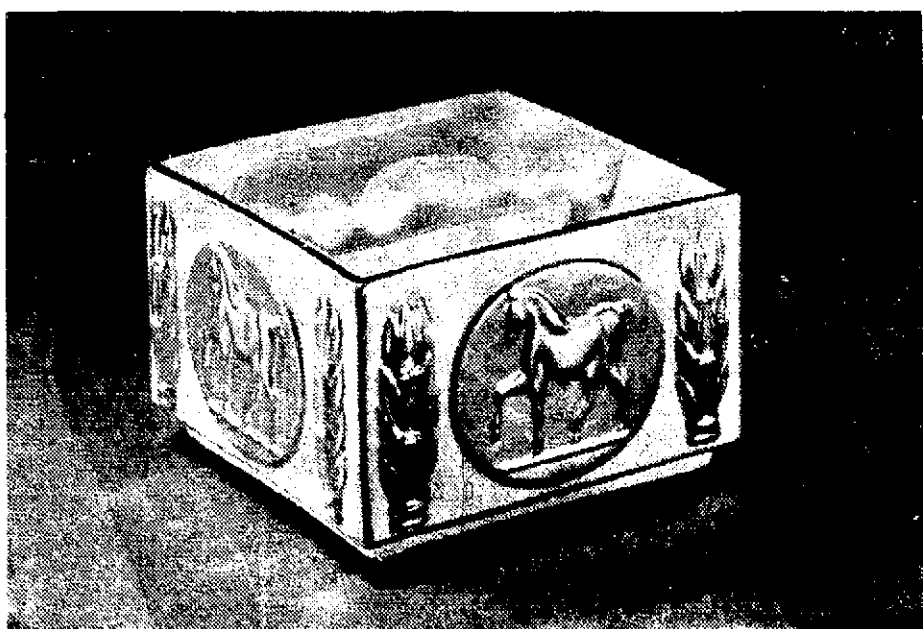

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim", in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak of achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at Miller & Paine, Foundations, Third floor Downtown, Mall level Gateway.

By Hal Brown
Sports Editor, The Star

No Longer No. 1

Nebraska, which opened the season as a near-unanimous choice as the nation's best football team, has now dropped from the top spot in everyone's book despite maintaining an unbeaten record.

A more appropriate term than Nebraska dropping probably explains the switch. It can more easily be explained by the rise of Duffy Daugherty's Spartans at Michigan State.

The last two publications to vault the Spartans over the Huskers were Sports Illustrated and Kickoff, both of whom made the move this week on the basis of Michigan State's laughter over Northwestern and Nebraska's squeaker over Missouri.

The only thing the Huskers can do is keep winning and hope Notre Dame and Texas Tech give them a hand with Michigan State and Arkansas on Nov. 20.

Look for them to keep winning this week with Kansas' two-game win streak coming to a screeching halt: NEBRASKA 34, Kansas 0.

Barnes Continues High On All-America List

. . . MCADAMS, ROLAND ALSO BOOST STOCK IN LATEST ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

Kansas City (AP)—The top three defensive All-America candidates in the Midlands nailed down their positions even more solidly last week in the latest report by the Associated Press regional board.

Tackle Walt Barnes of Nebraska, Linebacker Carl McAdams of Oklahoma and Corner Back Johnny Roland of Missouri all had outstanding games.

On offense, Missouri tackle Francis Peay, 246, blocked strongly against Nebraska but a pair of his teammates looked just as good. They are tackle Butch Allison, 232, and guard Bruce Van Dyke, 230. Van Dyke also was a standout as a defensive tackle.

Nebraska's great end combination, Freeman White, 211, and Tony Jeter, 227, stayed high on the offensive All-America list along with Tulsa's amazing passing combo, quarterback Bill Anderson and split end Howard Twilley.

Nebraska trailed 14-0 when the 232-pound Barnes blasted through and blocked a punt at the Missouri 38. That started the Huskers on the way back.

"I just saw an opening and decided to try it," Barnes said. "The next time, though, it wasn't there. They wised up."

The battle between the 207-pound Roland and the 6-foot-5 White was something to see. White caught a couple, but Roland made him drop one with a crunching tackle. Roland also intercepted a pass. "Roland is the best defensive back in the nation," said Bill Moudt, Colorado assistant who scouted the game. "He really did a job on White."

Both White and Jeter blocked strongly against Missouri, as did Husker tackle Dennis Carlson.

The 226-pound McAdams had another outstanding game against Colorado with 17 tackles. Eddie Crowder, Colorado coach, said:

"McAdams is just accepted as a super player, the best defensive player in our league, and one of the nation's best."

Colorado end Sam Harris, a junior, is on the same level with seniors White and Jeter, in the view of most board members and coaches. Harris, 225, is a top defender and plays on offense in key situations.

Iowa State's Dick Kasperek, 227, is the best of the area's offensive centers. LaVerne Allers of Nebraska, Mike Eader of Missouri and Dick Pratt of Kansas lead the offensive guards.

The top ball carriers are Charlie Brown of Missouri, Harry Wilson and Frank Solich of Nebraska, William Harris of Colorado and Walt Garrison of Oklahoma State.

Nebraska's linebacker and defensive captain, Mike Kennedy, turned in another outstanding game against Missouri.

Wesleyan Plays Host To Hastings

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

The 51st game of a traditional rivalry will be played tonight when Nebraska Wesleyan plays host to Hastings at O.N. Magee Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

The Plainsmen have won 22 games, while Hastings has come out on top 21 times in the rivalry which dates back to 1908. Five games have ended in ties.

Coach Ray Westover's Plainsmen must bounce back after its 20-0 loss to William Jewell which spoiled Wesleyan's bid for a perfect season for the second year in a row.

The Broncos are also trying to get back on the winning trail after three straight losses to Nebraska College Conference leaders Peru, Kearney, and Wayne.

"We thing the boys will be ready despite the setback," Westover comments. Injuries, however, will make it tougher for the Plainsmen.

Although Alan Egger is the only regular definitely ruled out of the contest, Dwight Tietjen, a three-year standout at end, and Bob Olson, injured earlier in the year, probably won't be at full speed, and are doubtful starters.

Dale Pelz, another end, is slated to start the contest but an ailing neck, injured in the loss to William Jewell, may limit his action.

The only common opponent of the two teams is Doane. Nebraska Wesleyan finished the contest with a 13-point bulge, while Hastings, facing the Tigers a week earlier, could muster only three points in a 3-0 victory over Doane.

The Broncos smashed Chardon, 20-9, the next weekend, but that is the last time coach Dean Pryor's team has won. Tonight's game marks the fourth effort by the Broncos to get back on the winning track.

Wesleyan has won the last two clashes between the two schools, and will have the services of the teams' leading ground gainer Bill Rohrig, who has managed to remain unhurt during the rash of injuries which has taken its toll of the Plainsmen.

Another Wesleyan stalwart is quarterback Dave Lebsack. Lebsack's passing and the running of Rohrig has been responsible for most of the NWU offensive output this season.

Hastings will be led by quarterback Bob McAuliff and halfbacks Dick Peterson and Jack Giddings. End Mel Harris will provide a good target for a Hastings team which likes to pass a lot.

RAMS' MENTOR

FINED $1,000

Los Angeles (AP)—Coach Har- and Sware of the Los Angeles Rams, said he has been fined $1,000 by National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle for criticizing officials.

Sware said he got the word Wednesday. Rozell's office in New York, following policy, declined to discuss it.

On Oct. 25 Sware told football writers here that in his opinion officials "are being intimidated in large stadiums away from Los Angeles." He cited Baltimore, where the Rams lost 35-30, and Chicago. He said he didn't question officials' integrity but felt they were being subconsciously influenced by the crowds.

Thunderbolts Face Rockets Tonight

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

What happens when the irresistible force meets the immovable object?

Somethin's gotta give! Whether or not it will be the crushing Pius X offense or the solid Northeast defense is the question at hand as the Rockets and Thunderbolts meet for the first time in football at Seacrest Field Friday night.

Northeast comes into the battle with a 7-1 record and the best defense against scoring in Class A ranks.

Pius X, 6-2, has used the opposite approach in achieving its success. The Thunderbolts have the best scoring mark in Class A, averaging six touchdowns a game.

Art Bauer's Rockets have given up four touchdowns, but only two have been charged against the Northeast defense. Northeast opponents have yet to score on a long, sustained drive against the Rockets.

North Platte's Larry Stoll broke loose for an 80-yard run from scrimmage and Grand Island's Mike Lamppa scored from 47 yards out on a screen pass.

Pius X coach Vince Aldrich, whose club lost early in the season to top-rated Boys Town, calls the second-ranked Rockets "as tough as Boys Town and maybe even better on defense."

Aldrich is hopeful that an improved passing attack will help his Thunderbolts move the ball against the Rockets.

"John McEniry has been throwing better every week and we've been able to incorporate our pass offense with our running game. We're not going to throw just to be throwing," Aldrich indicates.

The passing finesse exhibited by the Thunderbolts in the first half as they rolled up a 33-6 lead over Southeast last week gives Bauer something else to worry about.

"They really moved the ball well in the air," last week," Bauer admits, but the Northeast coach isn't forgetting that the strong point of the Thunderbolts is a powerful running game.

In fullback Kim Wheeler (190) and halfbacks Mike Bohaty (195) and Dana Stephenson (175) Pius X has one of the finest sets of running backs in the state.

In Stephenson and sophomore Bill Rierden the Thunderbolts have speed to turn the flanks, but another speed merchant, junior Rick Shibata, is sidelined after breaking a finger in the pre-game warmup last week.

Other than Shibata the Thunderbolts are labeled as "pretty healthy" by Aldrich. End Jim Knudtson and fullback Tom Reinick continue on the injury list at Northeast, but Bauer indicates that quarterback Jack Ketterer has returned to drills.

While Pius X and Northeast are battling in the 7:30 p.m. contest at Seacrest Field Southeast will attempt to get back on the victory trail at Grand Island.

The Islanders, who will represent the east division in next week's Big Ten playoff, will be seeking their first win over a Lincoln club this season. They've lost to Lincoln High (34-0) and Northeast (21-7).

Kansas Invades NU Frosh

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

The Nebraska University freshman football team, trying to recuperate from its first loss since 1962, a 14-6 defeat at the hands of Missouri yearlings last week, meets a powerful Kansas University team at Memorial Stadium at 2:30 today.

The Jayhawk frosh have a 2-0 record for the year, beating Oklahoma, 24-8, and blanking Kansas State, 28-0. The Husker freshman walloped K. State, 38-14.

"We're expecting a real tough game," said freshman coach John Melton, whose loss to Missouri was his first since coming to Nebraska.

KU freshman coach Vere Wellman has made two changes in the lineups for today's game. Ron Samson, a 235-pounder from Downey, Calif., will start at offensive right tackle in place of Jim Hunt, and Rod Taylor, a 185-pound back, gets the call in the defensive backfield in place of Bill Sailors.

The KU frosh are led by Bob Douglas, their 6-3, 200-pound quarterback from Eldorado, Kan. He and halfback Don Shanklin have combined to make things miserable for this year's opponents.

The Jayhawks arrived in Lincoln Thursday and held a practice session Thursday afternoon.

"Who ever heard of a freshman team coming a day early and working out?" asked Melton. "They must really want this one bad."

Melton, after viewing films of last week's loss, discovered several players who did play well and said NU fans should watch 6-7, 210-pound Frank Patrick, quarterback of the Husker yearlings, halfback Tom Penney, guards Joe Armstrong and Mel Brichacek and 246-pound center Joe Buda on offense.

Defensive players worth watching, according to Melton, are Tom Casbeer, Bob Lints, Ron Gustaff and Bob Best, who moved to the defensive unit after the first game.

This will be the home opener for the Huskers, who close the season next week at home against Iowa State.

Tiger, Terrell Named Boxers Of The Month

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—Nigeria's Dick Tiger and Ernie Terrell were named co-boxers of the month by the World Boxing Association in the monthly ratings announced Thursday.

Tiger regained his middleweight title, defeating Joe Giardello, and Terrell retained his WBA heavyweight crown with a win over Canda's George Chuvalo.

Al Lopez Resigns As Chisox Manager

Chicago (AP)—Al Lopez, 57, quit as manager of the Chicago White Sox for family reasons and simultaneously was named a club vice president and consultant Thursday.

The long-rumored move came at a hastily-summoned news conference at which Lopez' new job was defined as assistant to General Manager Ed Short.

Successor to Lopez, who was under managerial contract through 1966, probably will be named before baseball's winter meetings within a few weeks in Florida, Short said.

Sox owner Arthur C. Allyn, who presided at the news conference, said Lopez would be Short's "right hand man," in charge of selection, development and acquisition of players.

It was reported by AP baseball expert Joe Reichler at the recent World Series that Lopez would step out after nine White Sox seasons with Mayo Smith, former manager of the Philadelphia Phils and Cincinnati Reds, being a prime candidate to succeed him.

Short and Lopez, to be based at his Tampa, Fla., home in his new front office job, discussed a new manager even before Allyn announced Lopez had quit as pilot.

"We kicked a few names around, but we have a lot of screening to do before we settle on Al's successor," said Short.

Lopez had the stock reply "he's a good man" when such names as Smith and White Sox coaches Charlie Metro and Tony Cuccinello were mentioned as his successors.

Allyn scoffed at the suggestion that Lopez was kicked upstairs and handed an honorary title to keep him available in case he should decide to return as manager.

"We always have been ready to use Al's great baseball knowhow because even before he signed his two-year contract a year ago, Al was

NEW ORLEANS TO CONSTRUCT DOMED STADIUM

New Orleans, La. (AP)—Mayor Victor Schiro, with an eye on Saturday's election, announced Thursday that a $24 million enclosed sports stadium would be built on the shores of Lake Pontchartrain.

Schiro, who is running for reelection, told of the stadium plans at a hastily called news conference at his home, where he is convalescing from an appendectomy.

He said the stadium would be built with private capital and would seat 60,000.

Huskers Undecided At 2 Spots For KU

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Two starting spots remained undecided Thursday for Nebraska as the Huskers neared the end of preparations for Saturday's Parents Day game against Kansas at Memorial Stadium.

"We will have to make up our minds tomorrow (Friday) about the injured," Coach Bob Devaney said Thursday. "We will work out, then make the decisions on our starters."

The two players in doubt are linebacker Lynn Senkbeil and safety Larry Wacholtz, who kicked the winning field goal in last Saturday's 16-14 win over Missouri.

Both are suffering from foot injuries. "If they (Senkbeil and Wacholtz) aren't running full speed, we won't start them," Devaney noted. "They both are good football players but we don't feel we can go with them if they aren't completely ready."

If they aren't ready, Devaney said he would start Rick Coleman in Senkbeil's spot and Ron Poggemeyer in place of Wacholtz. Coleman filled in for Senkbeil after the linebacker suffered his injury early in the Missouri contest.

Langston Coleman, who has been sidelined the past four weeks, will be ready to go Saturday, but Devaney said he would not start. He lists his defensive end starters as Jerry Patton at left end and Len Janik at right end.

Janik earned a starting nod over sophomore Ivan Zimmer for his play in the win over Missouri.

The Husker offensive lineup will have Freeman White and Tony Jeter at ends, Dwain Carlson and Jim Brown at tackles, Jim Osberg and LaVerne Allers at guards, Kelly Peterson at cen-

A football rally to boost spirits for Saturday's contest against Kansas will be staged at 6:30 tonight at the South entrance to the Nebraska Union on the NU campus.

Spartan, Irish Game Will Not Be Televised

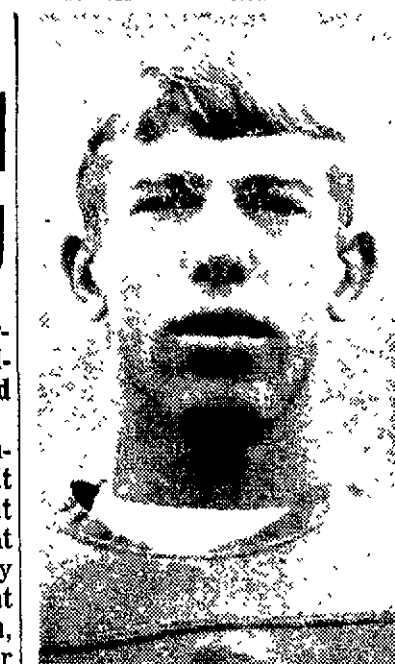

New York (AP)—There is no possibility the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game on Nov. 20 will be carried on network television but it might be telecast to the home areas of the two colleges an NCAA official said Thursday.

Asa Bushnell, of the NCAA television committee, said the four regional telecasts already scheduled for Nov. 20 preclude the possibility of the game at South Bend, Ind., being added to the NBC schedule.

Dave Bristol To Join Reds Coaching Staff

Cincinnati, Ohio (AP)—Dave Bristol, who never played major league baseball but has played and managed for several minor league clubs, was named Thursday a coach of the Cincinnati Reds.

Bristol, 32, will be one of the youngest coaches in the National League. Bristol was manager of the Reds' San Diego farm club in 1964 and 1965.

Iowa City, Iowa (AP)—Charles H. Snook, 65, father of the University of Iowa's record-setting football passer, Gary Snook, died of cancer Wednesday in California.

He and another son, George Snook of Los Angeles, had planned to attend Iowa's Dad's Day game against top-ranked Michigan State here Saturday.

The elder Snook, who had lived in retirement with his wife for three years at Seal Beach, Calif., entered the hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. Snook and two other sons, Harold Snook of Fullerton, Calif., and Charles T. Snook of Davenport, Iowa, also survive.

Coach Jerry Burns said Thursday he did not know yet whether Gary will play against Michigan State.

'Don't Let 'Em Outside End' Is Success Secret

... LEON'S FOES SCORELESS

By RICK AKIN

The theory in midget football is: "If you don't let 'em get outside the ends, there's not much trouble."

Leon's played it that way so well this year, it didn't let a foe score all season on the way to a 5-0 season for the city championship in Class A.

"The kids are really proud of it," coach Dick Grell says, "even though we do stress it's not the end if you are scored upon or even lose."

Grell usually starts filtering his alternate units in when Leon's gets ahead by a couple of touchdowns. But in the last game, with reserves on the field, the opponent started threatening, moving down around the 30-yard line.

"All the kids started hollering, 'Put the first team back in,'" Grell says. "But I left the subs in and they held."

Leon's will hopefully keep its unscored upon string going when it meets Skinner's of Omaha Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Pius X Stadium in the annual Omaha-Lincoln playoff.

Lincoln and Omaha Roberts will square off at 1 p.m.

Grell, who scouted Skinner's last week, says they have a flashy outfit which had little trouble in posting a 7-0 record in the eight-team league the Gate City has.

Lincoln won both ends of the playoff last year, Lincoln Roberts topping Skinner's in

-KANSAS DEFENDING CHAMPION- Big Eight Harriers Meet At Stillwater

Stillwater, Okla.—First of the Big Eight's 1965-66 sports championships will be decided at Oklahoma State's Hillcrest course Saturday when the teams race at 11 a.m.

Defending champion Kansas, winner of 16 of the last 18 Big Eight meets (since 1947) is regarded as the favorite once again, although the Jayhawks are expected to be pressed by Oklahoma State, Kansas State and Colorado, with the returning individual champion, Dave Wighton, of last year.

OSU's team runner-up of last season returns six runners from last year's meet, most of any school, and Coach Ralph Higgins is hopeful they can shave the time they recorded last season.

Kansas is paced by John Lawson, third individual a year ago, and Tom Hergovich, 6th last season, expects a fine run from soph Gene McClain, a sophomore who recorded a 4:05 mile as a freshman, and junior college runner David Kamrar, along with veteran Lowell Paul.

K-State's Conrad Nightingale, fourth last year, is backed by Charles Harper, 15th in 1964, and Norm Yenkey, 27th, and has an outstanding soph, Mike Tarry.

Although State's harriers

the championship and Leon's taking Manila's in the runner-up contest.

It's been a successful season for Leon's on other fronts, too. The Class B team went undefeated in five tries and the Class C outfit took all four of its contests.

Grell says the C league, newly formed this year, for the overflow of turnouts, is the backbone of the whole midget program because it teaches some kids who have had no football experience at all the basics of the game.

Devlin 1st Round Leader In Meet

Sydney, Australia (AP)—Bruce Devlin solved Kensington's swift, hilly greens and fired a six-under-par 66 Thursday that gave him a three-stroke lead in the opening round of the Wills Masters Golf Tournament.

The slender Australian pro, a familiar figure on the American circuit, put on a fine putting show. But the fast, sloping greens bedeviled most of the others, notably Gary Player of South Africa, golf's leading internationalist, and Jack Nicklaus, the U.S. Masters champion from Ohio.

Player, who had two amazing rounds of 62 in winning the Australian Open at Adelaide last week, shot a 70, Nicklaus, after blowing several short putts, salvaged a birdie on the final hole and matched par 72.

McLemore's Tip Wins For Frisco

New York (AP)—McCoy McLemore tapped in a rebound with four seconds left and then blocked Chet Walker's final shot, giving the San Francisco Warriors a 121-109 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers in the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader Thursday night.

Bill Cunningham made one of two foul shots with 23 seconds remaining to give the 76ers a 119-119 tie and set the stage of McLemore's heroics.

The Warriors twice built up what looked to be comfortable leads 32-16 in the first quarter and 70-60 in the third—but each time the 76ers battled back.

Geiberger Grabs Lead At Waialae

Honolulu (AP)—Easy-going Al Geiberger birdied two of the last three holes—one with a snake of a putt and the other with a ruler-straight iron shot—and grabbed the first round lead in the $60,300 Hawaiian Open Thursday with a 68.

Honeymooning Frank Beard of Louisville and slender Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., were a stroke behind with 69s, three under par for the 7,000-yard seaside Waialae Course on the slopes of Hawaii's famous Diamond Head.

Veteran Al Besselink, who looks like an old-time movie star and said he made three putts that were "beyond the legal limit," shot a 70, along with George Archer.

High School Cross Country Champions To Defend Titles

... JACK WEYERS LOOKS FOR INDIVIDUAL MARK

Omaha North, Ainsworth and Bayard return to defend team championships and Sterling's Jack Weyers is back to defend his individual title in Class C in the state high school cross country championships at Pioneer Park Saturday.

Competition opens at 9:30 a.m. in the Class C division. Weyers' primary challenge is expected to come from Grant's Cliff Colglazier, one of the state's top milers last year. Bayard is favored to annex its third straight team title with district winners Wood River, Crofton and Johnson figured to be threats.

Hebron, runner-up to Bayard in Class C last year, and Gering, seventh in Class A last year, are newcomers who could give Ainsworth an argument for the Class B title.

The Class A race, won by western teams for three years before Omaha South and Omaha North captured championships in 1963 and 1964, is regarded as a toss-up.

Central, Bishop Ryan and North were just six points apart in last week's Omaha district meet. Big Ten champion Kearney, boasting a well-balanced squad, is the top outstate contender. The class A race is scheduled for 10:30.

Jim Lang of Bishop Ryan, Bob Tupper of Benson, Ray Crossman of Central, Mark Wilson of Central and Rich Carey of Bishop Ryan are the top individuals from the Omaha ranks.

Dan Flores, an unbeaten junior from Alliance, and Tom Shultz of Kearney are the leading individuals from the outstate contingent.

And if it doesn't work out, he still hopes to get back to the United States.

Knickerbockers Edge Bullets

New York (AP)—The New York Knicks withstood a furious closing Baltimore drive led by ex-Knicks Johnny Green for a 108-107 victory over the Bullets Thursday night in the second game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Knicks took the lead 22-21 in the first quarter and led the rest of the way, but it looked as if the Bullets might pull it out with a last ditch rally.

KU's Harvey May Be Able To Play

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—Kansas defensive linebacker George Harvey has responded to medication for a chest virus and should be able to start against Nebraska at Lincoln, coach Jack Mitchell said Thursday.

"Anybody under antibiotics 24 hours or so won't be as effective but he'll probably start," said Mitchell.

The Jayhawks left by plane for Lincoln this morning.

Records At Stake As OU Indians Entertain Emporia

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 4 (UPI)—Two individual season records may be fractured Saturday when Omaha University and Emporia State tangle in the Indians' final home game of the season.

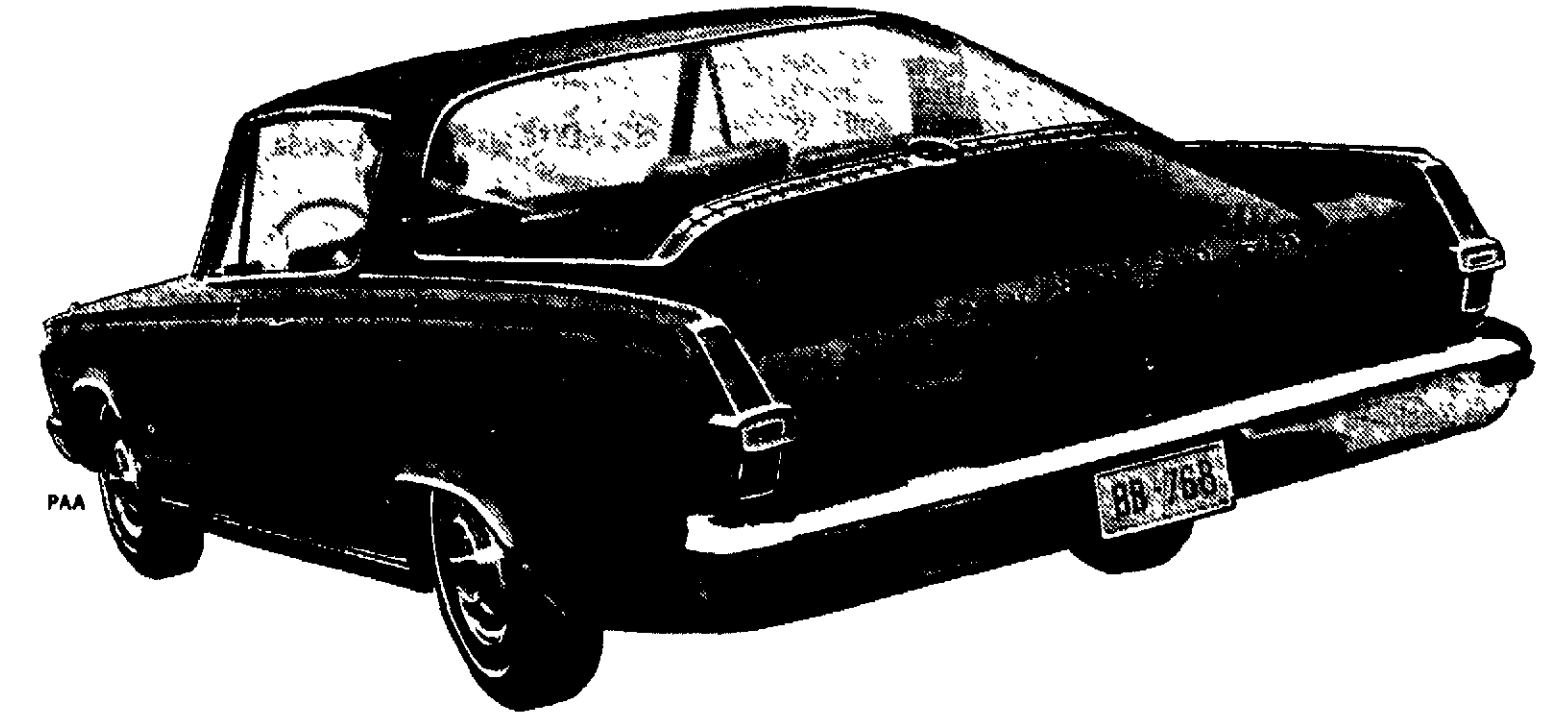

Kickoff time is at 2 P.M. at the O.U. Stadium.

Quarterback Marlin "the magician" Briscoe is a cinch to break Carl Meyers' season passing record of 1,125 yards set in 1963. Briscoe needs just 13 yards to top the record.

Little All-American Halfback Gerald Allen has taken aim on the other mark. He lacks 125 yards to best Roger Sayers' rushing mark of 707 yards set in 1961.

I, HECTOR HUMMINGBIRD, AM NO LONGER RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ACTIONS OF MY WIFE, WILMA, SINCE SHE BOUGHT A NEW '66 PLYMOUTH BARRACUDA!

A personality changer? Not really! The new '66 Plymouth Barracuda is just a most unusual car. Station wagon, sports car, and sedan, all in one. Rear seat up, seats 5. Rear seat down, forms a 7-foot-long "carry anything" cargo space. With the optional Formula 'S' performance package, Barracuda's a real clock-stopper around the rallye circuit. Test-drive the unusual '66 Plymouth Barracuda, today!

HUAC Uncovers School Burning Plan

Washington (AP) — House investigators told Thursday about a 1958 convention of the Ku Klux Klan where a proposal to burn schools drove some members out of the hooded order.

The purpose of the Atlanta meeting, investigator Philip Manuel told the House Un-American Activities Committee, was to consolidate the various Ku Klux Klans.

But he suggested that a proposal "to burn schools in the event integration came to the South" backfired.

Burn Schools

"Isn't it true," he asked Georgia Klansman Robert L. Bing, "that as a result of the proposal to burn schools, some persons at this meeting dropped out of the Klan?"

Bing, a dark 39-year-old driver for Central Truck Lines of Atlanta, who was alleged to have attended the 1958 meeting, declined to answer.

A source said the committee intends later to probe more deeply into the 1958 meeting "to show who was there and who said what."

Bing was identified as the exalted cyclops (president) of the Clayton County Klavern in Jonesboro which reportedly has given its members training in guerrilla warfare.

Higher Ambitions

He was pictured also by Manuel as a man with higher ambitions in the Klan, having unsuccessfully challenged in an election Georgia Grand Dragon Calvin F. Craig and having been defeated in an effort to become a national, or imperial, officer of the United Klans of America.

Bing was said also to be the owner of a farm in neighboring Henry County used for Klan paramilitary training and exercises.

Bing was asked about—but refused to discuss—whether there was a special underground group in his klavern called the "White Band" whose purpose, Manuel said, was "to take action against Negroes and others in Clayton County."

After dismissing Bing, the committee recessed until Tuesday when Grand Dragon Craig was told to return for more questioning.

Walker Libel Case May Go To Top Court

Shreveport, La. (AP)—Wes Gallagher, general manager of the Associated Press, said Thursday that any libel judgment obtained by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker against the AP and its members would be appealed, if necessary to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Gallagher issued his statement in New York after District Judge William Woods reduced from $3 million to $2-250,000 an award made by a jury here last Friday in a suit by Walker against the Associated Press and the New Orleans Times-Picayune Publishing Corp.

The original award exceeded the amount Walker sued for and was reduced to conform to the full amount he sought.

Dr. Yost Quits Post

State Institutions Director George Morris said Thursday that Dr. John Yost has resigned as clinical director of the Lincoln State Hospital.

Dr. Yost, who has been with the hospital about two years, has accepted a position with Lincoln's Child Guidance Center.

Morris said Dr. Edwin Coats, hospital superintendent, would take over the clinical director's duties and no replacement of Dr. Yost is contemplated.

Morris said he asked Dr. Coats to talk with Dr. Yost after "receiving some complaints from other doctors at the hospital regarding the clinical director."

Morris said he didn't talk personally with Dr. Yost but turned the matter over to the hospital superintendent.

Dr. Coats declined comment on Dr. Yost's resignation.

Church Files Suit To Void Special City Assessment

Second Baptist Church Thursday filed a suit in Lancaster District Court asking that the City of Lincoln be enjoined from collecting special assessments from the plaintiff for a water and sewer district and that the assessments be declared void.

The church contends that the city constructed a water district in 1958 and a sewer district in 1959 for the area in the vicinity of No. 57th between Vine and Gillan Rd. and that the church is completely served by those districts and has paid the assessments on them.

However, the church alleges that in January of this year, the city gave notice of assessments for Water District 622 and Sewer District 761 which includes only a small portion of the church property; that the church has made no connection with these districts, has received no benefit from them and has no need for additional water or sewer service upon the church property.

The church asks the court to declare the special assessments levied against the church property for the districts void and of no force and enjoin the city from proceeding or attempting to collect the assessments.
